

Spirituality Mural.

Jerry, a guy whom I met years ago, has worked as a counsellor/chaplain in the prison system. He shared an account, from his prison work, of the creation of a “spirituality mural”. Click HERE to view a separate image of the mural.

Jerry shares with us how several years ago this mural was created for the chapel in the Edmonton Remand Centre. Because traditional spiritual symbols do not necessarily resonate with prisoners, they asked approximately two hundred of them to express and share their spirituality on a 12" by 12" square. The squares were then arranged by artist Louis Lavoie.

A short video about the mural can be viewed HERE

To listen to an audio file where Jerry shares more information and answers questions about the process involved in creating the mural, click HERE. You may want to download the image of the painting and keep it in view as you listen.